ISAIAH CARLTON UPDATE....

"Through These Doors Pass The Future of Army Aviation"

We recently checked to see how Isaiah Carlton was doing in his new assignment at Ft. Rucker. He sent us this great photo and advised that everything is going well.

He is currently almost through the Basic Officer Leadership Course which will be completed in March. He will then move on to the Survival Evasion Resistance and Escape (SERE) school that will last for 21 days.

After SERE, he will enter Common Core training which covered the fundamentals of rotary aviation. He will train in a basic airframe like the Lokota or the TH-67 trainers to learn helicopter flight. From there he will spend approximately 22 weeks in advanced aircraft.

BEST OF LUCK ISAIAH !! WE ARE ALL SO PROUD OF YOU !!
